Mother Teresa

Post-communist Albania has been searching for symbols of self-identification including those which enable it to identify with its foreign interlocutors. With India, Mother Teresa is one such symbol. Her international fame, Albanian ethnicity (though she was born in North Macedonia) and Indian citizenship are all factors in the Albanian interest in her life. In a Muslim majority state, Mother Teresa is an important symbol of plurality. Tirana international airport has been named after her. The Albanian government had requested to move the remains of Mother Teresa from India to Albania. The request was made at high levels by the Albanian leadership, including the former Foreign Minister Lulzim Basha, Prime Minister Sali Berisha and President Bamir Topi. Government of India did not agree to this proposal. In her centenary year 2010, a symbolic pathway of peace was inaugurated in Tirana.

GOI Assistance to Albania

India has extended humanitarian assistance of 5,00,000 doses of Covid-19 vaccine (Covishield) to the Republic of Albania to fight the pandemic on 18 April 2021.

ITEC and Other Exchanges

Albania has been availing of the ITEC slots offered to it by the Government of India under its ITEC Scholarship programme. In 2022-23, three slots were allotted to Albania out of which two slots have already been availed of by the Albanian participants. Albanian diplomats have also attended various courses conducted by SSIFS, New Delhi, for Foreign Diplomats.

Culture

The prevalence in Albania of mass-based cultural activities common to socialist regimes, made the people receptive to popular music and cultures from other countries, though these are increasingly overtaken by US and European-origin mass entertainment. Indian films are shown on Albanian television which is state-run and a few Indian films have been shot on location. An ICCR sponsored Manipuri Dance troupe visited Albania in November 2012 and performed during the centenary celebrations of Albania's independence. Their performance was very much appreciated by local parliamentarians and other dignitaries. An ICCR sponsored classical Indian dance troupe (Mohiniattam form), led by Dr. Neena Prasad, and accompanied by 3 musicians, visited Tirana, Albania, and performed on 6 June 2019 to an appreciative audience.

The International Day of Yoga has been celebrated in Tirana, Albania every year since 2015. The 9th International Day of Yoga 2023 was celebrated in Tirana and more than 100 yoga enthusiasts participated in the event.

Indian Community

There is a small Indian community in Albania of approx. 400. Most of them are temporary workers.
